Recent Full-Stack developer graduate from the University of Texas Austin, Full-Stack bootcamp. Certified in JavaScript, CSS, React.js, MERN stack, and responsive web design. My technical knowledge of cutting-edge web technologies, together with my problem-solving skills and dedication, make me a valuable member of any engineering team. I enjoy tackling programming problems from a variety of perspectives and cooperating with others. With my most recent project I worked on a team of 5 to develop a single-page MERN workbook that helps students learn to code. I am excited to immerse myself in this industry over the coming years as I continue to grow in this fast-paced world of development.
